Rutland History - www.rutlandhistory.org

The Burtons of Rutland are a branch of a distinguished family descended from Ingenuffe (or Ingulfus) who came over with William the Conqueror. He & his son, Ralph, were men at arms in the service of Henry de Ferrars, who were granted land before 1086 in the village of Burton below the walls of Tutbury Castle in Staffordshire. Ralph's holding is recorded in the Domesday Book.

One of Ralph's descendants (probably a grandson) Robert had 3 sons. The Leicestershire branch of Burtons at Higham & Lindley came down from the second son, William counting among its members, Sir William Burton the Standard Bearer of Henry VI, who was killed at Towton & William the historian of Leicestershire (1575-1645).

From the 3rd son, Robert, descend the Burtons of Rutland, the first of whom was Nicholas de Burton living in Stamford in the reign of Edward III. Here as a Burgess of the Town in 1294, he was called to Parliament in London, the first time that Stamford sent a representative to Parliament. Sir Nicholas was a Knight of the Shire for Rutland in 1311 & after acquiring Tolethorpe Hall in Little Casterton by marriage in 1314, he represented the County of Rutland in Parliament in 1314/15 & 1318. Sir Nicholas' son, William, was a member of the King's Bench, a Knight of the Shire for Rutland in 1353, 1354 & 1357/8 & became Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas in Dublin where he died in 1375.

While at Tolethorpe, the Burtons represented the Shire in Parliament through several generations & served their county as soldiers in Gascony & France under Edward III, Richard II & Henry V. In 1500 the Tolethorpe Estate had descended through the line of the elder Burton sons to a daughter who was sole heiress & died childless. By then, however, the junior Burton line had moved to Braunston at the other end of the County, where they had, like the progeny of many other younger sons, moved down the social scale to become yeoman farmers.

The Burton family stayed at Tolethorpe for 8 generations, selling the property to the Brownes of Stamford in 1503, when the Burtons moved to Braunston. Here they purchased a Manor of Braunston in 1544 & another in 1607. After this, the family dispersed, the eldest John, to Stockerston, Leicestershire, the 2nd, Bartin (Martin) to Oakham, Simon the 3rd son staying in Braunston & the youngest, Augustin, moving to London.

John Burton of the Stockerston line was made a Baronet in 1622, but the title died out when his gt grandson, Sir Charles, was transported for debt. The Oakham Burtons moved first to North Luffenham Hall to Ashwell Hall. A daughter of the family married the 4th Viscount Downe in 1728. Branches of the Burton family grew up in several Midland counties including Staffordshire, Leicestershire & Derbyshire. Others settled in Devon & the South of Ireland.

Simon & Augustin's family no longer live in Braunston, but have equally spread into

Rutland & surrounding counties. There must be many younger sons' descendants in the area who carry the name without perhaps realising their connection with such illustrious ancestors!

In 1316 Tolethorpe Manor passed to Nicholas upon his marriage to Maud.

He was Burgess of Stamford in 1294.

Nicholas was the first of a long line of Burtons who lived at Tolethorpe for nearly 200 years. They were a distinguished family holding positions of high office. Sir William Burton was the Standard Bearer in the army of Henry VI. His son also Sir William is said to have built a chantry on the north side of the hall, c.1360, where monks lived to pray for the family. Sir William died in 1375 & was succeeded by his son Sir Thomas Burton, who died in Battle in 1381. His wife Margery died in 1410. They are buried in the Chancel of nearby All Saints Church, Little Casterton, beneath commemorative brasses which show, in finely drawn etchings, Sir Thomas in Armour & Margery in a flowing gown. The brasses were engraved by a Flemish craftsman and are said to be among the finest in the country.

For many years the Burton family continued to represent Rutland in Parliament and served their country in France from 1327 to 1470, under Edward III, Richard II, Henry V & Henry VI.

The Burtons moved away to become Yeoman farmers at Braunston at the other end of Rutland.

Notes for Alfred Bond:

Birth Discrepancy

I have Alfred's Birth Certificate stating he was born 23 April 1851. However on his Military Documents (Enlistment Paper & Registry) he gives his birth date as 13 June 1850! He lied about his age to get into the Royal Marines as he would only have been 16. The proof of this is when his birth was registered on 4th June 1851.

Info. from Pauline Wales nee Bond Jun 2005 Alfred joined the Marines where he served for 21 years, becoming a Buglar Major - only 4 Marines in the Country hold that rank at any one time. In June 1889 he left to become a publican in Gosport, Hants and later in Portsmouth and Southsea. The Castle Tavern, 25 Green Road, Portsmouth, was run by Alfred until his death and then Beatrice and her husband continued to run it until approx. 1925. Notes from The National Archives: Alfred joined the Royal Marines 13 December 1867, HQ, Gosport, Hampshire. He was stated as "Under Age" 13 December 1867, having joined aged 17. Promoted to Sergeant in 1885. He left the Royal Marines 19th June 1889 On Ancestry.co.uk:

Alfred appears in the England & Wales, National Probate Calendar (Index of Wills and Administrations), 1861-1941 as follows: BOND Alfred of 25 Green Road, Southsea, Hampshire and the Castle Tavern, Somers Road, Southsea, died 6 July 1916 at 25 Green Road, Southsea. Probate London 22 August to John Cummins ships steward R.N. and John Moorey civil servant. Effects 'a34,497 14 shillings.

Notes for Beatrice Annie Bond:

1911 Census - 2 Apr 1911 No children born yet to the couple. Lisa Notes: In January 2015 I had a surprise contact from a lady called Lynne who had been given a small brown spectacle case by a friend who owned an Antique shop in Spain. Inside the case was a bundle of papers all referring to my family, in particular Beatrice Annie. The items were: Half Birth Certificate of Cecilia Kate May Bond (my gt grandmother) - known as "Kate" (date 1st May 1877) Half Birth Certificate of Mary Bond (Cecilia's Sister) (date 11th May 1886) Half Birth Certificate of Beatrice Annie herself - known as "Annie" (dated 15th June 1880) Marriage Certificate of Alfred Bond & Mary Ann Richardson (dated 10th July 1876) A very small photo which can only be Mary Ann Bond (nee Richardson) as my Mum had met the other female members & told me the photo definitely was not one of them (see Media on her page) A Full Birth Certificate of Alfred Bond dated 23rd April 1851 A Blue Letter dated 28th August 1878 referring to duty to be paid on a Will for "Mary Ann Clifton of Boston" stating "4 Messuages in Shodford's Lane Boston left by Eliz Perry" addressed to Mrs C.C. Richardson I haven't the slightest notion what the letter is but don't think at this present time it is relating to my direct family. Also in the spectacle case was a letter written by "Annie" to her sister "Kate" as follows (undated possibly 1914-1918 as War is mentioned?): "Dear Kate don't get discouraged perhaps some day we meet again don't work too hard. I am glad you and dear Mother is together you can have a little peace of mind. I wonder where the old wreck is will he die in a ditch I ask myself, if we had but had a good Father how different everything might have been. Well now dear I hope your health will keep good and dear Mother to we are all mostly well now sometimes we grumble and groan a little but we get over it again I hope you do the same now I'll close with our best love to you both and all and remain your loving Sister Annie. The girls shall write just as soon as they can to you they often talk of you day it's real nice, just fancy my baby 4 years old on the 9th of October. She is the last one that's better than Nos 15, No 8 that they way to do business isn't it, well now I hope this war is not going to make bad times for you this winter they say it will make bread dear it is horribly bad I think I was glad to hear that you enjoyed yourselves at all. Give our best

love to all the Baby included when you write to them the same to William and family when we come back there will be so many..... and I shall not know, that it will distract me, (ask me shall I ever come back) I would give a great deal to see you once more dear Mother, but all's for the best if we could but think so". I wonder if there are pages missing as the writing does not seem to follow on? It seems like my great great grandfather was a drunkard & possibly more than that, as Annie had left home because of it. Who was William & the children? The spectacle case was either in a house clearance in or around Exeter or Javea in Spain. I presume this letter actually belonged to my gt grandmother Cecilia "Kate" or her mother Mary Ann Woodhead Bond nee Richardson. The mystery deepens! 21st January 2015
