Victoria, Australia. He married Elizabeth Moxham, daughter of Robert Moxham and Mary Williams, in 1833. She was born in 1805 in St Briavels, Gloucestershire.

Thomas Teague was baptized on 21 Jun 1809 in Newland, Gloucestershire. He emigrated from Emigrated to Australia aboard the "Marco Polo" to Port Phillip in 1852.

Notes for Thomas Teague:

Thomas was the eldest son of Thomas Teague (Snr). He did not inherit Trow Green Farm, where he and his father before him had been born. Perhaps he had his own ideas or wished to make his own way due to wanting to marry, because although his father was 77 when Thomas married in 1833, he didn't stay at the family farm, and managed other farms. However, a few years after his father's death in 1848, perhaps the realisation that he did not inherit the farm inspired him to look further afield and no doubt seeking a better future for his family he took the momentous step of emigrating to Australia. Thomas arrived in Melbourne in September 1852, with his wife and children on the sailing ship "Marco Polo". The "Marco Polo" was built in Liverpool and was a famous flyer of the 50's, with a round voyage of 5 months 2 days Liverpool to Melbourne and back. It was wrecked in 1833. However the trip was not short enough for their youngest child, Sarah Ann (Annie), who succumbed to measles and died before the end of the voyage. Tragedy continued to stalk the family. After arriving in Melbourne in September, Thomas was living in Richmond and in the employ of Mr Mortimer at a Cattle yard, when he died in the November of that year, leaving young George, at 17, the male head of the family. Travelling with her family on the "Marco Polo", Elizabeth was aged 14 when she arrived in Victoria in September 1852. A few years later when she was 18, Elizabeth married Josiah Pullin at Ballarat, Victoria, in Josiah's tent, according to the rites of the Wesleyan Church. One can only speculate on how Elizabeth came to meet Josiah Pullin. It would seem that sometime after the untimely death of her father, soon after he and his family arrived in Australia, the family went to Ballarat, perhaps attracted by the gold fields. In spite of bearing a family of 14 children in often fairly basic conditions, Elizabeth lived until nearly 80 years of age. One wonders whether after 66 years in Australia she still felt that England was 'home' as did so many of her generation.

Elizabeth Moxham emigrated from Emigrated to Australia aboard the "Marco Polo" to Port Phillip in 1852.
