George had around 7 or 8 brothers and lived in Armagh. We think the name of the place is "Keady". George is buried in Jonesbow graveyard, Dundalk. Notes for Elizabeth (Eliza) Hall:

Has been known by the names of Eliza, Elizabeth & Lizzie depending on which archived document I have been looking at! 1901 Census of Northern Ireland shows "Lizzie" as being born 1869 in Co Tyrone. This would not have been correct as her first child was born in 1857! 1911 Census shows "Elizabeth" as being born in 1853 in Co Tyrone. Either there were 2 "Lizzie" Creaney's or her age & place of birth is completely wrong.

6. GEORGE ALEXANDER<sup>3</sup> CREANEY (George<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>) was born on 01 Mar 1866 in Barronstown, Dundalk, Co Louth. He died on 11 Apr 1898 in Belfast Workhouse, Belfast, NI (Died of Typhoid Fever & was buried in the City's Cemetery). He married Margaret McElveen, daughter of Samuel McElveen and Catherine Cunningham, on 27 Mar 1890 in St Nicholas, Dundalk. She was born on 10 Jan 1867 in Carrickfin, County Donegal. She died on 12 Jun 1903 in Belfast, Ireland (Age: 37).

Notes for George Alexander Creaney:

George was born in Louth, Barrowstown, Southern Ireland and left home at an early age. It was thought he emigrated to America. Wrote to Earl Smith Jnr (ref. Big R 1997) as he had info. regarding emigrants to USA from Ireland 1875-1890, attempting to trace George. Replied 13 May 1997 as follows: Dear Mrs Birch, Thank you for your letter of 5 May concerning George Creaney. As you are probably aware, there are a few lists or indexes available for Irish emigrants from Ireland/UK to the USA during the late 1800's. I have been trying for years to determine how my McGuinness ancestors got to the USA. But, all is not lost. The US Social Security System started about 1937 and I have a CD-ROM of all the people who were registered and died between 1937 and 1993. Although your George would have been too old (about 71) to have participated in the program, any children would probably have done so. There are only a dozen or so Creaneys who received Social Security and died between 1937 and 1993. Half were women and no way of telling if Creaney was maiden or married name. I have listed the males below: ArthurB:6/9/1899D: Dec 1951 SS Issued: Illinois State Died: ? CharlesB: 12/5/1896D: Oct 1964 SS Issued: Illinois State Died: Illinois HarryB: 24/04/1912D: Oct 1974 SS Issued: Illinois State Died: Illinois MartinB: 27/2/1914D: Feb 1979 SS Issued: Illinois State Died: Illinois JohnB: 22/5/1903D: Aug 1974 SS Issued: Penns. State Died: N.J. JosephB: 4/8/1890D: Oct 1962 SS Issued: Penns. State Died: Penns. So, your George may well have settled in Illinois or Pennsylvania and one or more of the above may be children? The fact that the only Creaneys are listed in the two states might make it easier to find your George. If you would like, I can obtain a family listing for any George Creaney living in IL or PA during the appropriate Census years (1900, 1910, 1920). If George is listed it will give the date he was Naturalised and year of arrival in the US. Let me know if you want to pursue this. If we find George's family listing it should be possible to find any living descendants and their whereabouts. I am an American citizen, retired, and permanently living here with my English born wife, June. We both enjoy the slower pace. Take care and enjoy the spring season. YS 23/5/97 - Contacted Mr Smith again & he replied suggesting a search of the Census records in for 1900/1910/1920 in Illinois & 1910 for Pennsylvania, America. He has a contact in America who could do this for us. 12/6/97 - Heard again from Mr Smith. No luck yet again! The various States were searched but with no luck. We are stuck again. Notes from Paul McElveen 5th January 2015: I came upon the Creaney information as a result of discovering a young girl called Edith Creaney living with my gg-grandmother in Belfast at the time of the 1911 census. She was reported as having been born in Dundalk, so I requested her birth certificate and discovered that she was the daughter of George and Margaret Creaney (formerly McElveen). When I found the marriage index entry I was able to request the parental marriage certificate. In both documents George was described as a coachman; on the marriage certificate his father (George) was described as a steward. Margaret's father (Samuel) was described as a gardener. Coachman, steward and gardener are all 'big house' occupations - could they all have been employed at Falmore Hall? There may well have been a falling out - George and his wife certainly left Dundalk, as they were living in Belfast in 1897 when their son George Alfred (or Albert) Creaney died at the age of 3 years. I cannot find a birth record for him in Belfast, so I'm presuming he was born in Dundalk in 1894. Edith Creaney (properly Elizabeth Edith) was born 26/12/1890 and married a chap called Albert Edward Mahon in Belfast on 05/04/1915 at St. Anne's Cathedral, but I have been unable to trace the family thereafter. Note that George and Margaret called their children George and Elizabeth - although the name George does occur on the McElveen side of the family (Margaret's grandfather's name), the name Elizabeth does not and probably came from the father's family (as I understand your family history this would have been George's mother's name). When George died in Belfast in April 1898 his age was given as 29 years, suggesting a birth year of 1869 (in Dundalk) - I know your George was born in 1866, but my family were notoriously inaccurate with ages at death! My own g-grandfather (buried in the same grave as George) was said to be 45 years old at the time of his death, when he was actually 52! And George's age may have been estimated from his marriage certificate - he was said to be of 'full age' (perceived as 21 years old) in March 1890 when he wed, making him (by assumption) 29 years old when he died 8 years later. I know it's not odd for someone to use a second christian name as the name by which they are generally known, but I did wonder if it was significant that Edith Creaney was not using hers, given your knowledge of a row within the Creaney family, with George leaving 'under a cloud'? George's death from typhoid in Belfast in 1898 is an interesting story in itself - there was a typhoid epidemic that year which claimed very many lives (just google it and you'll get lots of information). When George Creaney died on 11/04/1898 his address was given as 55 Elizabeth Street, Belfast and he was again described as a labourer; interestingly, his wife Margaret registered the death as his widow, but she gave her address as 32 Turin Street, Belfast - had there been a split? George was buried in Belfast City Cemetery in Section L1 plot 82 on 14/04/1898. This grave was owned by Margaret; her parents Samuel & Catherine were buried along with George in due course, as was her brother and my g-grandfather William James McElveen. Margaret is not buried in this grave.

George Alexander Creaney and Margaret McElveen had the following children:

- i. ELIZABETH EDITH<sup>4</sup> CREANEY was born on 26 Dec 1890 in Dundalk, Co Louth, NI. She married Albert Edward Mahon on 05 Apr 1915 in St Anne's Cathedral, Belfast, NI.
- ii. GEORGE ALFRED (ALBERT) CREANEY was born about 1894 in Dundalk, Co Louth, NI ((Possibly born in Dundalk)). He died on 17 Dec 1897 in 11 Turin Street, Belfast, NI.

Notes for George Alfred (Albert) Creaney:

Notes from Paul McElveen: When George Albert Creaney died on 17/12/1897 the death was registered by his father George Creaney, described as a labourer and resident at 11 Turin Street, Belfast. Wee George died of convulsions, said to have lasted 10 hours. The burial record for Belfast City Cemetery says he was buried in the Public Ground
